

The Upside of Downsizing

EMBRACE FREEDOM AND FLEXIBILITY

First things first: let's get rid of the negative connotation attached to 'downsizing'. It doesn't necessarily mean smaller homes, smaller cars, less furniture, etc. In fact, it means living a simpler life within simpler means, offering you the freedom to worry less about rainy days. The 'lock up and go' lifestyle means a lot less hassle, and fewer worries.

Downsizing means that you go for smaller, cheaper options without trading in your lifestyle. In fact, the less your monthly expenses become, the more you are saving for your future after retirement.

As with any situation, the glass can be seen as either half full, or half empty. Here are some of our top reasons why downsizing your life could be the best change you ever make.

FINANCIAL FLEXIBILITY

By downsizing material things like your home, car, garden, you can significantly reduce expenses, which will increase your cash flow.

#Relaxing

ADDED FREE TIME

Without a pool that needs cleaning or a massive garden that needs weeding, you will find that you have a lot more breathing space for just kicking back over weekends.

HEALTH BENEFITS

Downsizing brings less stress. With less stuff cluttering every part of your life, you will sleep better, have a clear mind, manage your time better... and yes, find that missing set of keys a lot faster.

ANYTIME, ANYWHERE TRAVEL

There's a reason young couples prefer a convenient lock up and go environment. It gives them freedom of movement and therefore a hassle-free reason to travel more. After all, life should be about quality, rather than the quantity of material possessions that you accumulate.

#Travel

Say hello to great adventures and more time for the things that truly matter. Downsizing offers you an opportunity to actually enjoy life without worries about future financial security. Don't hesitate. Add freedom and flexibility to your lifestyle TODAY.
